

The Marzotto Group is looking for 10 young Fashion Textile designers from all over Europe. Following an internship and a hands-on training programme to acquire specific competences, the selected designers will be integrated in the style department of the companies of the Group and collaborate with the Product Managers in order to implement the creativity and quality level of our offer.

PROJECT

The aim of the project is to find young talents who are determined to become the textile professionals of tomorrow. The project includes a first 6 month Internship (with a 500 € monthly expense allowance, lunches at the company canteen and free accommodation).

The interns will be split up and placed in the various companies of the Group: Ratti, Marzotto, Redaelli Velluti, BMT, Tessuti di Sondrio.

The first stage of the internship includes activity in the printing or weaving and finissage departments to acquire the necessary skills for the industrialization of the product.

The second stage of the internship includes activity in the style departments of the interiors, menswear, accessory and womenswear areas; at the beginning of this stage.

Activity will include archive research (company artistic patrimony) and the elaboration of a collection (clothing, accessory, interiors).

There will be visits, meetings and in-depth thematic talks at Fondazione Antonio Ratti (www.fondazioneratti.org) and with Fashion Textile experts invited to share their experience in the sector.

At the end of the internship, the best designers will be offered a position as apprentice, with an occupation in the style departments of the Group: the on the job training will continue in the form of specific courses and side by side activities with the division managers.

CONDITIONS

Conditions and project timing.

Applicants must be between 19 and 29 years old, have graduated from or be currently attending European Textile Design schools/universities, Fashion Management courses, etc.

Applications will be evaluated by an internal commission formed by designers from the different Business Units and Group Companies who will select the most interesting portfolios.

The selected applicants will be contacted (from 15 July) to fix a selection interview (via Skype).

The selection will evaluate the applicant's qualifications (degree or diploma, previous internships or apprenticeships in the textile sector, aptitude to teamwork and passion for textile design) and his/her level of creativity and knowledge of the workings of the industrial process, two elements that should appear in the projects presented in the portfolio.

During the interview, the Human Resources staff will evaluate if the candidate's profile matches the company's requirements, which include proactivity, commitment to the objectives and accuracy in their execution, communicational skills, perceptiveness and learning ability and willingness to adapt to the requests of the working team.

The project will start 15 September 2014.
